TRYON, N. C. WEDNESDAY, JULY 4TH, 1945

CURB REPORTER

Today's paper was printed Tuesday on account of today being July Fourth. But we have had a lot of interesting things that have been accumulating: There's the story about Mrs. A. J. Jervey, Sr., going across Lake Lanier dam. A puff of wind blew her new hat into the lake beyond her reach. Going on to Mrs. Harkness Smith's she phoned to Dr. Jervey. He and Mrs. Jervey's brother, William Harris, fished awhile for the hat. Finally Dr. Jervey had to leave to attend a patient. Mr. Harris continued to fish for the hat with a hook and line. Pretty soon the game warden came up and caught him for fishing without a license. But when Uncle Willie finally convinced the warden, the protector of the law assisted him until the hat was retrieved. Mrs. Jervey was on her way to Spartanburg. . . . There's another story about Mrs. Carroll Rogers, Jr., of Burnsville sending her two boys to Tryon to be with grandparents, Senator and Mrs. C. P. Rogers, while she attended the wedding festivities of her sister who was married a few weeks ago. While the boys were in Tryon they took to the woods at Lynncote, turned over the cinderator and set the woods on fire to such an extent that the Tryon Fire Department had to be called out. . . . Tuesday's Charlotte

ON THIS 4TH OF JULY . . .

. . . when we are more conscious of the achievements of our forefathers in paving the way for us by their fighting and by their building for the future, let us think what we can do to help future generations build a better nation. We hope there will be no more fighting. Science has gone forward in providing many comforts and luxuries. But the things that really count are the simple things that have been overlooked. Such things as general welfare, health, happiness. All of which depend on good food, cleanliness in mind and body, the development and maintenance of enduring friendships and proper religious associations to make life rich and full. One little thing we can do to help is to buy a pure bred calf through the 4-H Club Foundation. That is a bigger deed than it looks like. The calf will be loaned to a 4-H club member who will raise it and will pay back to the Foundation an offspring from his calf. This offspring will be given to another 4-H boy and a chain of good deeds will be started. Eventually the whole county will have pure bred calves to furnish good milk to hungry children, to bring in cash income for the farm home, to furnish beef for the family, manure for the garden in order to raise better vegetables. Gee! the possibilities of enriching Polk County grow with every step. Better calves mean better and more milk, better food in every way, more money, more prosperity, better health, and an interesting program of men and boys working together. For the
