

UNITED WAR FUND OF POLK COUNTY

Tryon, N. C., Aug. 27, 1945.

On Sept. 1st, Polk County will enter on its third and final United War Fund Campaign, and we are again appealing to the fine, patriotic people of our County to support, as they have always done in the past, this great philanthropic and morale building effort. As we look around over the state, we are beginning to see hometown boys in uniform on the streets again. Some of them have just returned from Europe wearing campaign ribbons, some with empty sleeves as silent testimonials to the valor they have shown. They behind them some of their comrades, the boys who gave their last full measure of devotion to the country they loved. Some of our boys have already left, and others will be leaving soon to finish the job, now almost completed, in the Pacific area. They, of course, would rather stay at home, and be with their families, but they have a call, and we must finish the job. All this presents to us a real challenge as we plan our third United War Fund Campaign. We cannot match our devotion with theirs, but we can throw as much unselfish sacrifice into the task before us as our financial ability will permit. Let us not fail our boys. Remember let us accept this challenge, not as a task, but as a privilege.

Please mail, or hand your contribution to Julian B. Hester, Jr., Treasurer of the United War Fund of Polk County at the Tryon Bank & Trust Co., or it can be left at the Bulletin office, or with any of the Committee chairmen.

Don't put it off. Do it now. Won't you help to put Polk County over the top again—the first county in all the State, as in the past two campaigns, to fulfill its quota?

Carroll P. Rogers, Chm.,
United War Fund of Polk County.

Rev. and Mrs. Mortimer Glover and children, Homer and Irving, of Wilmington, enroute home from Kanuga, are guests of Rev. and Mrs. William S. Turner at Belgrove in Gillette Woods.

Blue Ridge Weavers

Buy your presents
EARLY for service men and women

OVERSEAS

October 15th is the Limit

BUY VICTORY BONDS

Yours for service

BLUE RIDGE WEAVERS

TRY ON

WINE!

Made From Tryon Grapes

SWEET
and DRY

Produced By:

E. G. Vollmer

Tryon, North Carolina