

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper. Seth M. Vining, Editor.

5c PER COPY

TRYON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, NOV. 21, 1945

Weather Tuesday: High 65, low 43 A nice way to show your thankfulness on Thanksgiving is to give a Series "E" War Bond. It is a valuable permanent investment, and a financial help for that friend any time after 60 days from purchase General Eisenhower to succeed Marshall as chief of staff, and Admiral Nimitz to be the Navy chief. General Motors employees to go on strike. . . . B-29 Army plane flies 8,198 miles without stopping from Guam to Washington, making trip in 35 hours and five minutes. It shows how easy our country could be attacked by an air force from an enemy at long distance. We are not out of danger. Buy War Bonds now so our country can keep prepared. Our cities and homes will not escape the next war. Atomic bombs are still being made. The purchase of a war bond is security for you, your family after you are gone, and for your country Tryon Theatre is giving free admission to an exclusive movie, "LOVE LETTERS" to all buyers of War Bonds, Thursday night at 9 o'clock. . . . Union Thanksgiving service in Congregational church, 10 a. m.; Christian Science service at Library, 11; Episcopal Holy Communion at 11:30.

Max Feagan Appointed Polk Tax Collector

Max Feagan of Columbus was appointed Tax Collector of Polk County on Wednesday morning by the County Commissioners to fill out the unexpired term of the late W. C. Hague. Mr. Feagan is a returned war veteran, having served in the South Pacific. For a number of years he has been a member of the Democratic Executive Committee, and other civic committees.

Investing For Progress

Immediate plans of the Duke Power Company to spend $4,500,000 in additions to its steam plant at Cliffside is another vital step in the direction of an expanding industrial future for the large areas in the Carolinas which this company serves.

"It has long been the policy of the executives of Duke Power to build ahead of the times, not merely to satisfy current demands for electric power which flows from its generating plants.

"This new development is merely, therefore, in keeping with this long-established policy of keeping the company in position to supply potential as well as already developed customers among industries in this area.

"The large expenditure planned, therefore, at Cliffside is a striking testimonial of the faith of the company's officials in the healthiness of the industrial future of this section.

"The ability of prospective customers to secure adequate electric current to serve their pur-

Continued on Back Page