

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper. Seth M. Vining, Editor

5c PER COPY

TRYON, N. C., MONDAY, JAN. 13TH, 1947

Weather Friday: High 50, low 26; Saturday high 58, low 22; Sunday high 69, low 44, rain .85. That rain was a Saturday night recording. Sunday was one of the prettiest days ever seen in Tryon. Reddy Kilowatt visits the teen age canteen according to an Ad of the Duke Power Co. in today's Bulletin. This picture of Reddy dancing with the girl in a plaid dress was cast for the Bulletin by teen ager Walter Fortune. Miss Carolyn Flynn of the Duke Power Co. brought the Ad to the office in the form of a paper mold called a mat. She put this mold in an iron plate and poured hot metal on it to get an impression of what was on the mold so it could be printed in the Bulletin. And that's the way pictures are made in the Bulletin office. Of course before that an artist makes a drawing which is turned into a mat in Charlotte or some other big city and sent to us in that form. The Duke Power Co. advertisements which appeared in the Bulletin last year won first place in the United States for utility advertising. A national magazine, "Public Utility Ad-Views" made a survey of advertising in newspapers all over the nation. Jonas Martin, editor of

Continued on Back Page

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER HELD IN GUN DEATH

Sheriff W. D. Hines reported today that Mrs. Rosa Galloway McFalls and her daughter, Mrs. Bertha Mason, are being held without bond in the Polk County jail where they were taken Saturday, pending further investigation into the death of Charles William McFalls, 67.

The estranged husband of Mrs. McFalls, was found dead at the home of his daughter, in the Story apartment building, formerly the Lynn school building at Lynn. Sheriff Hines said no bond will be issued the two according to instruction from Solicitor Clarence O. Ridings. Sheriff Hines further stated that the situation looks as if foul play were involved.

Investigating officers stated that McFalls was instantly killed with a shotgun, the entire charge entering the man's head from behind. W. C. Dedman, a near-by resident, who arrived at the scene just a few seconds after hearing the report of the shotgun, stated before a coroner's jury Saturday that Mrs. McFalls was standing over the body looking down at the gun which lay beside the victim. Coroner Dr. William St. J. Jervey, stated that the death of McFalls doesn't look as if he committed suicide, although he may have accidentally discharged the gun.

The jury returned a verdict that the two women be held for further investigation and grand jury action. Sheriff Hines stated Sunday afternoon that no further evidence in the case had been uncovered.

Polk County Superior court convenes on January 27th.

McFalls was a native of Yancey

Continued on Back Page