and a herd of 30 registered Polled Herefords. Mr. Corpening said the plans called for increasing both herds to about 50 head.

In addition, Mr. Kimberly has a large stock farm at Neenah, Wis., with about 50 head of milking Guernseys, a poultry unit and breeding hogs. Mr. Corpening plans to spend some time at the Wisconsin farm in July.

Eskdale is also noted for its fine stable of hunters and jumpers, who have exhibited in the Hendersonville and other horse shows.
