TRYON, N. C.,

FRIDAY, JUNE 13TH, 1947

Weather Thursday: High 86; low 64; humidity 82 . . . Anyone having extra electric fans, and willing to lend them to the "Teen-Age Canteen for the summer months, "Please contact Ben Cromer or Mrs. Morgan Morris. We will take good care of them and return them in the fall." . . . Kiwanis International President J. N. Emerson of Pullman, Washington, died of heart attack on Thursday. Rotary International has turned down an offer to move their headquarters from Chicago to Denver . . . Arthur Reynolds reports more victories for his horse, "Valdina Gwynn." The horse won second place in the Oxmore steeple-chase at Louisville, Ky., with Jerry Helder up; first in the brush race at Jackson, Michigan, and first in the hurdle race at Battle Creek . . . Ned Swann had an interesting newspaper the other day that had an account of the honor given Mrs. Lewis Eisele, first supervisor of women in the big war production plant near Chevy Chase, Md., where she lived during the war. She stayed on the job until her work was finished. Mrs. Eisele's husband was connected with the
