

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper. Seth M. Vining, Editor

5c Per Copy

TRYON, N. C.,

TUESDAY, JUNE 17TH, 1947

Weather Monday: High 85, low 62, humidity 41. And that 62 feels colder than it looks. And this the middle of June. No wonder people brag about this section having the nicest year 'round climate President Truman vetoes income tax cut. He said to reduce taxes now would be bad for the country's economy and the treasury. Shipping at many ports tied up by strike means less income for workers, owners, customers and the government. Wealth is created by production. The Mississippi River rising rapidly from heavy rains. . . . Missildine's Pharmacy has replaccd the Coca-Cola road mileage disc at the corner of the building. All a person has to do to find out the distance and what roads to take to get to major cities near and far is to turn the disc. . . . Arthur Reynolds has received news of his horse, Valdinia Gwyn, winning the steeple-chase at Grand Rapids, Mich., Saturday A unique ceremony and one which any father would be justly proud, was the induction of John Gordon Gibbs of Raleigh as a Master Mason in the Jeff L. Nelson Masonic Lodge No. 605 in Tryon Monday night. The father,

Continued on Back Page

BONEY JACKSON

Landrum, June 16.—Boney Jackson, 79, died at his home here Monday night following an illness of 3 years duration. He was a native of Polk County, N. C., and had made his home at Landrum for only a short time.

Mr. Jackson was a son of the late Asbury Jackson and Sally McMurray Jackson. He was a member of the Pacolet Hills Baptist Church, Polk County.

Surviving are his wife; 2 daughters, Mrs. Ray C. Walker of Mill Spring, and Mrs. Hazel Jackson Glenn of Landrum; and 3 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday from the Mill Spring Baptist Church at 3 p. m., with ministers Clarence Tucker, T. E. Reid, Robert Early and Robert A. Brooks officiating.

Pallbearers: James Smith, Walter Horton, John Walker, Martin Walker, Frank Jackson, Frank Edwards.

Directors Meet Tonight

The Directors of the Tryon Chamber of Commerce will meet tonight for their regular monthly meeting.

SOFTBALL NEWS

The Blue Ridge Weavers defeated the Firemen 14 to 8 Monday evening. The Blue Ridge Weavers play Adams-Millis this afternoon and on Wednesday the Blue Ridge Weavers play the Baptists at 4:30 and at 6:30 the Methodists play Adams-Millis.