

Est. 1-31-28)

Published Daily Except
Saturday and Sunday

(Vol. 20—No. 149)

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper. Seth M. Vining, Editor

5c Per Copy

TRYON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 10, 1947

Weather Tuesday: High 83, low 69, rain .05, humidity 68. It's the humidity that makes you feel the heat more and people are complaining about it in many places over the nation. The Charlotte Observer had a long editorial on it this morning. This mountain air is still tops in the nation for year 'round comfort. The Trowbridges ("Everybody knows the Trowbridges; no first names mentioned") write from Lake Placid Club in the Adirondacks, "It would please Charlie and Wayne Creasman to know that during the first three weeks we were up here it was more sizzling hot than we have ever known Tryon to be—and never even cooled off at night." . . . The British are seeking relief from part of its burden of governing Germany. The Russians want a world police force (probably made up of Russians). Senator Clyde R. Hoey agrees with The Bulletin policy, that increased production is the solution to our economic problem when there are shortages or when prices are too high. Senator Umstead says cooperation of industry, labor and government is needed now to avoid economic troubles ahead. Stassen

Continued on Back Page

AT KIWANIS TUESDAY

Kenneth Sanders had charge of the Tryon Kiwanis Club program Tuesday at 1 p. m., at Oak Hall and presented Dr. Rebekah Gibbons, formerly head of the Nutritional Division of the University of Nebraska. She gave an outline of some of the advantages and problems of preparing, freezing and defrosting frozen foods. She believed every family should have a home freezer or locker in the freezer locker plant.

Chas. J. Lynch reported the additions of a wheel chair and two more crutches for use of invalids.

Guests at the meeting included Farry Barber of Hendersonville, who has a 17-year perfect attendance record; Wesley Lewis of Greenville, S. C., Col. Wm. A. Schilleter and Herbert Thatcher of Tryon.

Melvin Hill Man

Directs Church Program

Galen B. Crist (Melvin Hill) has been appointed district director of the "Advance With Christ" program of the Church of the Brethren, according to an announcement received here from the general headquarters of the church in Elgin, Ill.

Crist's region covers the states of North and South Carolina.

The "Advance With Christ" program, which was adopted by the church at the recent annual conference in Florida, is an effort to "translate faith into more aggressive action." Regional and local directors are being appointed to awaken individual churches to their responsibility in the program.

Continued on Back Page