TRYON, N. C., FRIDAY, SEPT. 19TH, 1947

Weather Thursday: High 73, low 67, humidity 81 . . . The hurricane did an estimated 50 million dollars damage in Florida. Storm now headed toward New Orleans, Mobile, Ala., and Northwest Florida. . . . Prices of meat, butter, grain, corn and cotton dropped Thursday . . . With Tryon so crowded for space it looks good to see the ad in today's Bulletin of 2,000 square feet of storage space available by Harry Süttenfick's Queensland Looms at Lymna. . . . The large crowd that turned out to see "The Miracle at 34th Street" at Tryon Theatre Wednesday and Thursday and the enthusiasm of the patrons show that the American people still want to see good pictures and not just the gangster, murder, sex scenes so often presented . . . Thousand Pines Inn announces in today's Bulletin that it will be open for the season on Sept. 25, and that reservations must be made for lunch and dinner. This will be good news to many visitors and home-folk who like to eat out occasionally at the various attractive places in the community. Due to many war and tax restrictions as well as shortage of labor and food some

P.T.A. HAS FIRST MEET

The opening meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was well attended. Dr. Claude Scarborough chose as the subject of his address—"Teaching the Child about God." He stressed the value of talking naturally and sincerely with the child about God and the importance of our daily living as it impresses the child.

Attendance prizes were awarded to Mrs. Rector's third grade, Miss Early's fourth grade and Miss Viele's eleventh grade.

Two major objectives of the association as announced by Mrs. Roger Shaffer, president, are: the enlargement of the school playground and its improvements, and the financial aid toward the teenage canteen's maintenance for a portion of the year.—Contributed.
