TRYON, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1947

Weather Thursday: High 58, low 26 . . . The weather is perfect for this time of year—and everybody is praising the decorated Christmas tree in the park near the depot where the Recreation group will sing Christmas carols . . . Horace Newman, one of the committee putting up the trees said he doesn't know what they would have done without the help of the young people of the Recreation Center who helped put up the trees and put on the decorations. And way the dollars have been rolling in to pay for the bulbs and electricity is making those who worked so hard feel happy and willing to undertake another project when needed . . . Last night was the Rat Night in Polk County. James E. Johnson, committee-man for the Valley says some of the people forgot to call for their poison at his store, and that they should get it at once and put it out today, before it dries up. The rats love it the way it is now and we want them to love it. If you failed to get any poison, but put some this week-end and help destroy the rats . . . Sunday is a day of Christmas programs
