

Desk copy

Published Daily Except
Saturday and Sunday

(Vol. 26—No. 229)

(Est. 1-31-28)

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper. Seth M. Vining, Editor

5c Per Copy

TRYON, N. C., THURSDAY, JANUARY 1, 1948

Weather Wednesday: High 69, low 34. Yesterday, December 31, last day of the year, was one of the most perfect. A few complained of being too hot. The day was a busy one in Tryon with parties that began in the afternoon and ended sometime this morning. Dances were held at Sunnysdale, Country Club and Parish House. There were private dinner parties at the hotels and inns and in the homes of many who stayed up to see the old year go out and the new one come in, and to turn on the radio and here the millions counting at Times Square in New York. Everybody is getting ready for a big 1948. Love of friends and cooperation of neighbors will do big things for every community in the nation. Don't worry about Mr. Wallace. He probably passed a radio receiver when he heard the words, "H-E-N-R-E-E!" and didn't get the Aldrich part, and thought his public was calling for him. . . . President W. C. Ward of the Tryon Bank & Trust Co., said that Edwin F. Lucas, 53, of Greensboro, who died in Boston, was a director of the Southern Mercerizing Co., of Tryon. . . . The bowl games will

Continued on Back Page

SALUDA NEWS NOTES

By Miss R. E. Blair

There will be services at all Saluda churches Sunday, January 4th. Celebration of the Holy Communion at 9:30 a. m., at the Episcopal Church. Regular services at the Methodist and Baptist Churches at 11 a. m., and at the Presbyterian Church at 7 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Burgie Pace had as guests this week, Carl Franklin and son, Earl, from Chandler, Oklahoma. On Christmas Day they entertained 26 dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Capps from Dana, N. C., and their sons and grandsons.

Mary Lou McCallister a student X-ray technician from Sewanee Grey School of Medicine, spent the holidays with her family, and had as her guest part of the time, Martha Surel, a student of the University of North Carolina. Mary Lou will return to Winston-Salem on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bishop and daughter, Frances, of Inman, S. C. spent Sunday with P. A. Bishop and family.

A party was given by Miss Cleo Hall at her home on Christmas Night. The out-of-town guests were Martha and Doris Burch, Ronald Boling, Edward Blackwell and J. H. Yelton, all of Hendersonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Coleman spent the week-end with the Coleman family in Canton.

Mrs. H. G. Laughter is seriously ill at St. Luke's hospital in Tryon.

A group of young folks under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson sang carols on the streets on Christmas Eve. This is a love-

Continued on Back Page