John Vanderveer Deul, author-scientist and explorer is spending a week at the Hotel Tryon. Mr. Deul is resting from a 4-months personal appearance tour of the Nation, coming here from Mexico City.

Mr. Deul is well-known for his research work at the Amazon Headquarters for the American Museum, as well as for some of his literary works which have been filmed.

Questioned as to why he came here he said: "I came North with the birds when I discovered they had no anti-freeze in their radiators!" Expressly he came to stop over and visit some old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Griffiths of Columbus. He expressed surprise that it was this mild—45 degrees here, only 800 miles south of 30-degrees below zero! His regret—not enough time to climb all the mountains!—Contributed.

The Board of Stewards of the Tryon Methodist Church will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the parsonage. The World Day of Prayer will be observed by the Tryon churches on Feb. 13th, at 3 p. m. The service will be held in the Methodist Church.

The best care cannot be given to a sick person when the work is constantly interrupted by family or visitors. Therefore, it is very detrimental to have any visitors in the hospital before 10 a. m., or after 9 p. m. Most sick people have certain treatments that must be carried out before being settled for the night, and also most sick people like to get settled fairly early and don't like to be disturbed, especially by "other people's" visitors. The cooperation of the people in this community in this matter would mean a great deal toward the well-being of the patients in the hospital.—Contributed.)
