

CURB REPORTER

Continued from Page One

Masonic Lodge will meet tonight at 8 o'clock . . . Mrs. James R. Trowbridge sent a Christmas greeting to Winston Churchill and a note of thanks has been received on House of Commons embossed stationery . . . Mrs. W. D. Robertson is a member of the Committee for Constitutional Government. "31c out of every $1 produced by the average citizen is taken from him by government in direct or indirect taxes" the group says . . . Beginning in this issue The Ballenger-Jackson Co., is running a series of ads on Swansdown and Jaunty Junior Suits, featuring the newest styles and the finest materials on the market. Manager Matt O'Shields says, "You'll find these suits as advertised, and only one. There are no duplicates." . . . This is Boy Scout Week and all over the nation funds are being raised to carry on this great work of training boys to be all-around American citizens instilled with the ideals of the Founding Fathers. Their motto is "Be Prepared." Nelson Jackson, Jr., is finance chairman of Polk County as well as of the Piedmont Council . . .

Principal Jim Gibson of Tryon High School will address the Kiwanis Club Tuesday at 1 p. m., at Oak Hall hotel.

Wednesday night is the Duplicate Bridge Tournament night.

*By B. H. Corpening
(District Forester)*

The Division of Forestry and Parks of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development is now in the process of furnishing each sixth grade student of white and Negro schools throughout the entire State with specially printed heavy manila book covers.

This project jointly approved by officials of the State Education Department and Department of Conservation and Development has been planned to provide the practical item for protecting valuable text books and at the same time introduce to the minds of this younger generation the vastly important theme of Forest Fire Prevention and related practices.

The front of the book covers is cleverly designed with a bear-like caricature, named Smokey, busily engaged in suppressing a forest fire and offering a reminder that "Little Trees Grow to Big Ones Through Fire Protection and Proper Harvesting." A space is also provided for the name of the student and title of book. The back of the cover is devoted to a table of four simple safety rules for preventing forest fires under a heading "Out Door Manners."

Distribution of book covers in Polk County is under the direct supervision of County Forester Warden O. C. Feagan, who will visit the schools and request the assistance of the teachers in placing the covers on the text books.

The Landrum Lodge No. 278, A. F. M., will meet on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, it has been announced by the secretary

B E E F

Grain fed finished beef at 50c per pound in quarters. State amount wanted in letter to Cedar-dale Farm, Columbus, N. C.—Advertisement.

W. W. LORD

- ACCOUNTING
- BOOKKEEPING
- INCOME TAX

Room 10—Over Buchanan's

DO IT THE DAY BEFORE PAPER PRINTED

Whenever possible all notices of any kind to go in the Bulletin should be sent to the newspaper office the day before in order to be sure that they will be published. Early the next morning is often too late, because half of the paper has already been printed and not enough pages left for copy already in the office.