TRYON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, NOV. 17, 1948

Weather Tuesday: High 70, low 33. Dwight L. Sawhill's four-year monthly average weather report is published elsewhere in this issue. It is the average temperature at three different times each day at 8:30 a. m., 4 p. m., and 10 p. m., the hours a person is usually up and feels the temperature. So when you hear about those extremely cold days and hot days, just get out this daily average for four years and remember that day in and day out the weather here is pretty good on an average. At no time did the average get below freezing, nor above

50. Paste Mr. Sawhill's weather report on a book or some place where you can keep it . . . Harmon Field road will be busy this afternoon with cars going to the Wildlife turkey shoot and field trials at Harmon Field and to the Garden Club meeting at Mill Farm. Both organizations are interested in conservation in order for all members to enjoy as much of nature's resources as possible. Unlawful hunters can kill off all wild life and unlawful flower sellers can do the same thing with the natural beauty that belongs to all the people . . . Dick Runkle, Tryon's new candid photographer, has in-

THE NARROWS BOUGHT

Royal Fowler, poet-farmer of Cornwall, Conn., has bought Mrs. Florence Bannard Adams' White Oak Mountain estate, The Narrows, and plans to spend at least half of each year there. Mr. Fowler is a graduate of Yale University and is a well-known poet. Sale made through Tryon Real Estate Company.

Mrs. Adams bought the Harriet Taylor-Farley house last spring and it is now occupied by her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Greene and family.

The Narrows has been host to many distinguished guests, among the most noted being Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, a close friend of Mrs. Adams.

The Narrows was once owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ludlum, who sold it to the late Otto Bannard, uncle of Mrs. Adams.

ATTEND SCOUT MEETING

R. H. Brady, K. A. Bowen, B. B. Flynn and Laxton Hamrick attended the annual Scouter-Cubber "Round-Up" of the Piedmont Council, Tuesday night at Gardner-Webb college at Boiling Springs. The leaders were divided into various groups for study of special phases of Scouting.

Flynn Nominated Scout Head

B. B. Flynn was elected chairman of the Polk County Boy Scout organization Tuesday night at the executive meeting of the Piedmont Council held at Gardner-Webb college. Mr. Flynn has served for several years on the Boy Scout Board of Review, Troop Committees and Scouter Club.
