ARE YOU GOING TO SEE "THE MALE ANIMAL" ON MONDAY OR TUESDAY NIGHT?

Of course it's only a question of which night because everyone is planning to see this hilarious Broadway hit, Being put on by the Tryon Little Theatre. VERY AMBITIOUS?—It sounds so—for a Little Theatre group,—but having seen a rehearsal say "NO"—It's going to swell. Jim Gibson and Faye Brown as the young professor, Tommy Turner and his wife, Ellen, and Daggert Karsten as the ex beaux and football player are really funny and appealing—as are Baxter Haynes, as a member of the board of trustees, Isham Henderson as Dean Damon, Mary Flynn, as Patricia Stanley. Ellen's younger sister; and Bill Spivey as Cleote, the colored maid to name a few.

Tickets are on sale at Missildine's, Owen's, The Fabric Shop and the Blue Ridge Weavers. All reserve seat tickets are at the Betty Sturgis Shop. (General admission 75c and Reserve seats $1.)

Arrangements are being made for transportation for those on Melrose Ave., who have no cars. Phone 128. Be sure to see "The Male Animal" if you really want a delightful and amusing evening. Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 6 and 7, at 8:15 at the Tryon School auditorium.—Adv't.
