

Tryon Garden Club Meeting For January Held Wednesday

The January meeting of the Tryon Garden Club was held in one of the parlors of Oak Hall on Wednesday, January 19th, with its president, Miss Elizabeth Webster, presiding and receiving the reports of the various committee chairmen. Miss Webster reported that the February 16th meeting would be held at the Congregational church house and would be in charge of the Conservation Committee, headed by Mrs. Thomas S. Clark, the topic being "Saving The Hawks". Colored motion pictures of local birds will be shown.

Mrs. Clark reported that the Conservation Committee of the State Garden Club is endeavoring to arouse the interest of the various garden clubs throughout the State in forming Audubon Home Study Groups within the confines of their local Garden Clubs. Upon forming these clubs, literature on the birds of this region will be sent to each member. 17 signed up to become members of this group.

Mrs. Edmund M. Wiley, chairman of the Program Committee, thanked the members for the $3 gifts and $20 to be used for the purchase of books, which they had brought to the Christmas meeting for the crippled children in the North Carolina Orthopedic hospital at Gastonia. Mrs. Wiley and Miss Genevieve Washburn delivered these gifts to the hospital, at which time they were conducted through the institution and had an opportunity to see at first hand the fine work which North Carolina is doing for the relief of her disabled and crippled.

Arthur W. Brintnall of Seven Hearths was then introduced and talked as slides of his rose gardens in all their glory were being shown. He named the varieties as they were shown, told which had been discarded after trial, which were the strong growers and which the most prolific bloomers. The meeting was then turned into a discussion group and Mr. Brintnall answered questions as to the best way to prepare a rose bed, the fertilizing needs, and what he considered to be the best manner to mulch, spray and prune roses in this region.

At the conclusion of the meeting Miss Clara Edwards of Oak Hall surprised the club by presenting them with a bowl of delicious fruit punch.—Club Reporter.
