TRYON, N. C. MONDAY, MARCH 21ST, 1949

Weather Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Falconer returned a few days ago from St. Petersburg, Fla., and they brought along the following clipping from the St. Petersburg times: "For persons who are tired of going south for the Winter and who think Hawaii is too far away, a little town in North Carolina has a ready solution. Tryon, N. C., is a mountain resort with warm Winter weather. Exposed to day-long sun on the south side of the Saluda Mountains Tryon's dew and frost-free thermal belt is caused by winds sweeping from the valleys over the town to the peaks and forming a transparent umbrella over happy Tryonites. Its thermal belts are used by weather experts as curious examples of climatological freakishness. Tryon is a small, old-fashioned town full of eager vacationists. All types of mountain recreation are available nearby." Gus Travis' mother-in-law, Mrs. Rowell, society editor of The Times plans to retire in Tryon On their way back to Tryon the Falconers stopped over at Decatur, Ala., where they met Mrs. Eleanor Bird Lavman, formerly of Tryon and she asked about all her friends here. Her husband is a newspaper execu-

No Dogs In Polk County

R. E. Brantley, chairman of the Polk County Board of Commissioners, was the chief speaker at the Tryon Rotary Club Friday at 1 p.m. at Oak Hall. James R. Trowbridge had charge of the program.

Mr. Brantley spoke on county affairs. Among the things he mentioned was the failure of property owners to fully list their holdings for taxation as required by law. Dogs should be included but "apparently there are no dogs in Polk County", according to Mr. Brantley.

AT KIWANIS TUESDAY

Harold Griffith will be in charge of the Tryon Kiwanis Club program Tuesday at 1 p. m. at Oak Hall.
