

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper. Seth M. Vining, Editor

5c Per Copy.

TRYON, N. C. THURSDAY, SEPT. 15, 1949

Weather Wednesday: High 85, low 66 Two things on tonight: The P.-T. A. meeting and reception for teachers, and the Duplicate Bridge tournament at the Congregational Church House.

. . . . A lot of interest is being shown by Tryonites in the excavation being made next to the post office for the new building to be erected by Mrs. Caroline Hale for her Red Bird Associates Shop. It will be two stories, counting the full basement and will be of attractive design and color to harmonize with the white post office building Charles Conway another Tryonite to have his left tail cut as a reward for his first successful solo flight at the Skyline Airways Mr. and Mrs. John C. Heldreth have leased through Richardson and Karsten the M. B. Caldwell house in Gillette Woods A Bulletin subscriber writes, "You may be interested to know that the parents of Richard P. Bissell, who wrote "The Coal Queen", in the September issue of Reader's Digest, were here this past winter at Thousand Pines Inn. It is a reprint of the "I Personally" award of $1,000 in the July Atlantic Monthly TODAY, this af-

Continued on Back Page

Adult Evening Meeting At Mill Spring School

There is to be held a series of evening classes for adult men and women at the Mill Spring High School under the direction of Mrs. Ruby L. Wilson and T. S. Gash, home economics and agriculture teachers, respectively.

The first meeting of this type will be held at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, September 20th. This meeting is an organizational meeting at which time the programs and other matters pertaining to the classes will be mapped out. Suitable movies will be shown which will be of interest to all people of the Mill Spring community.

Both Mrs. Wilson and Mr. Gash pointed out that the evening classes will be arranged according to the needs and interests of the people. All adults interested in home economics and agriculture are invited to attend.

Tryon Wins First Game In Championship Series

Tryon and Saluda opened a three-out-of-five games series on Wednesday afternoon for the Blue Ridge League championship. Tryon won 5-2. Battery for Tryon: Bridges, Barber and Lewellyn; for Saluda, J. Ward, R. Ward and Holbert.

The next game with Saluda will be on Saturday at 3:30 at Harmon Field.

On Sunday Tryon opens a three-out-of-five games series with Landrum to be placed at Harmon Field on Sundays. Landrum reached the semi-finals in the Peach County League.