

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper. Seth M. Vining, Editor

(Vol. 23—No. 123) TRYON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, JULY 26, 1950

CURB REPORTER

Weather Tuesday: High 84, low 54, rain 1.01 . . . CORRECTION: The Craftsman's Fair advertisement in today's Bulletin, sponsored by the Valhalla Handweavers, has an error in it that was caught late to correct before printing. The fair is open each day from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m., July 24 through Saturday the 29th. The Valhalla Handweavers are members of the Southern Highland Craft Guild . . . L. E. Sayre, who made a delightful and informative talk at the Rotary Friday was invited to give the same talk to the Kiwanians on Tuesday and they also enjoyed it. Mr. Sayre gave a brief outline of the development

-----Continued on Back Page-----

Culberson Speaks to Lions

At the Lions meeting Tuesday night, Joe Stockton introduced as guest speaker, Paul Culberson, Polk County farm agent. Mr. Culberson spoke of the Polk County Calf Foundation program which originated in 1945 with 19 calves. It produces a 4-H boy or girl a 4 to 6 months old calf. The first offspring is given to another member and so on, forming a chain. In the 5 years progress, about 54 calves have been passed on this way. The question of whether the Lions Club would buy and sponsor a Foundation Calf was referred to the board of directors who will report to the Lions Club one month from this meeting. A number of Lions will be present for the annual foundation cattle show and luncheon at Harmon Field on Monday, August 14th.

The club has voted to buy glasses for 5 Polk County boys and girls who are now in need of them.

LIBBY'S LINES

A society note from a recent Chicago Tribune says: "Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Helder (Judy Waller) of Holland, Mich., are being congratulated on the arrival July 5, of their first child, a daughter, Pamela Waller, in Passavant hospital. The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Waller, of Lake Shore Drive and Mr. and Mrs. John Helder of Holland, Mich."

Mr. Helder was at Pine Crest Inn for several years and a rider in Tryon's Annual Steeplechase.

The July 5 issue of the Los Altos, Calif., "Town Crier" had on its front page a picture of Miss Pat Herron and Miss Meta Antisdal presenting two of the Daumier Puppets, a tiger and an Indian brahman in the play, "Not So Clever Tiger." Pat and Meta are the owners, directors, script writers, animation technicians, voices and stage hands for a new Los Altos project called "Daumier Puppets." These particular puppets are hand-puppets and according to the article under the picture they rely on the human hand for life. Pat and Meta are also adept at making and working "string puppets" which are animated by pulling a set of strings attached to its body. Before coming to Los Altos, Pat and Meta were with a puppet company in Cleveland and did some acting themselves with a theatre group there. Pat also directed a children's theatre. When the two puppet producers were in Tryon last summer visiting Pat's parents, Major and Mrs. A. R. Herron, they gave a fascinating description of how they make the puppets

-----Continued on Back Page-----