

(Est. 1-31-28)

Published Daily Except
Saturday and Sunday

5c Per Copy

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper. Seth M. Vining, Editor

(Vol. 23—No. 182) TRYON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, OCT. 18, 1950

Weather Tuesday: High 72, low 50 United Nations troops, which means mostly Americans, are moving forward in Korea . . . Miss Mae Irene Flentye appeared before the Kiwanis Club Tuesday to enlist the support of the Kiwanians to help prevent damage to local property during the Hallowe'en period. The local police department does not have enough men to cover the town during that period and the damage done by local vandals is distressing to people who try to build nice things There are only a few freedom scroll places left for If you haven't signed and expressed your belief in the sacredness and dignity of the individual, the right to freedom for all men, you will have to hurry. Scrolls are at the bank, drug stores, Bulletin office, court house and other places throughout the county. It is gratifying that so many people have hunted up these places and signed. We must develop a fighting spirit to preserve our freedom. We must have people who are aggressive enough to take the initiative. Just sit back and wait for somebody to bring you a scroll and you encourage that complacency which gets this country in such a deplorable state from time to time. Make the for-

Continued on Back Page

THIS "AINT" NEWS BUT IT'S IMPORTANT

Since its organization 3 years ago, the Tryon Little Theatre has done its best to provide some entertainment for the community with little to work with other than a few interested people and the will of these people to have a community theatre group.

Such lights, sets and properties as have been used in the production of "Dear Ruth", "The Male Animal", "The Youngest" and other successes have been borrowed or rigged up in the best way possible.

The major portion of the net proceeds from the sale of tickets has gone back into the Tryon Recreation Center which is the original sponsoring group of the Little Theatre.

This year, The Tryon Little Theatre hopes to raise, through patron memberships, enough money to buy adequate sets and lighting equipment to produce properly plays which can be enjoyed by the people of Tryon. The new Recreation Center offers quarters for rehearsals, workshops, and a place where equipment can be put into condition and stored. The Little Theatre believes that it is on the threshold of becoming more than just another group of people putting on a play. It hopes to offer to those who are interested in building sets, painting scenery, making props and all the other things which go into the production of a good play, the opportunity to do just that.

The patron membership drive is now in progress under the direction of Mrs. Antoinette Golding, chairman of the membership committee. The patron memberships

Continued on Back Page