Entertainment Light for Everybody

The Halloween entertainment tonight on Trade Street between Missildine's and Dick Burnett's service station will be open free to everyone who wishes to come, according to officials who are promoting the entertainment to give Halloween fun to anyone in the county and upper South Carolina.

The street will be blocked off for square dancing, skits, stunts and various types of entertainment. Campbell's string band, Earle Farrow's musicians and other entertainers are on the program.

Police Chief Walter L. Roach is general information chairman and he states that he will be glad to receive suggestions from anyone to help make the occasion a grand event.

The street will be closed at 5:30 and all young people everywhere are invited.

JOIN FREEDOM CRUSADE

Chairman Carroll P. Rogers reports that approximately 1400 people in Polk County signed the Crusade for Freedom Scroll and donated over $300 to help pay expenses of Radio America and other agencies being used to fight Russian propaganda by telling the truth about free democracies.

Mr. Rogers stated that the movement was so popular in this area and over the nation that the supply of scrolls and coin boxes were exhausted and that there was a long delay in getting new material scrolls. He said he appreciated the cooperation of the various schools, churches and civic organizations in putting over the campaign.
