The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper. Seth M. Vining, Editor

(Vol. 23—No. 194) TRYON, N. C., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3RD, 1950

Weather Thursday: High 82, low 51. Congratulations to Dr. John A. Royall of Tryon on the celebration of his 90th birthday today at his home, Maywood. Among the out of town members of the family registered at Oak Hall for the event are Capt. and Mrs. W. F. Royall and son, John, Ames, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Royall, Boothbay Harbor, Maine; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Inness-Brown and daughter, Miss Constance, New York City. Dr. Royall is a prominent author and authority on soil conservation, and he and Mrs. Royall lead an active life at their country estate in the Hunting Country which they have greatly improved from time to time. A party in Dr. Royall's honor was held Thursday night at The Auberge and other entertainment is planned for today. Thanks to T. W. Bradley of Green River Cove for some of his thermal belt green beans and 11 inch ear of corn which he says grew without any commercial fertilizer, just the good soil of the cove, rain water and a little sweat. . . . This afternoon is a good time to get some football spirit in your blood. Take time out and see the game at Harmon Field at 3:30 between Tryon High and the Optimist team. You'll do
