Former Polk County Girl
Now Successful Artist

(Special Reporter)

Mrs. Thomas W. Butler, who before her marriage was Miss Etta Myrtle Sanders, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Sanders and the late Mr. Sanders of Polk County, N. C., is a very special student at High Museum and School of Art in Atlanta. Mrs. Butler has been found guilty by a jury, of creating several lovely paintings and has sentenced her works to be hung in the Atlanta Art Assn. Gallery in Scott Memorial building of Atlanta. The jury is composed of faculty members of High Museum School of Art and is a newly instituted system of judging pictures for display. Only pictures that will bring credit to the artist and the Museum receive favorable verdicts. Each artist member of the Art Association is invited twice a year to submit four pictures to be judged for a month's showing in the gallery. This was the first time Mrs. Butler submitted any of her paintings for judgment. The three pictures were of still life. One was a water color of a vase of dried magnolia leaves, love apples and pears. Another was of magnolia leaves and seed pods done in black, white, and grey tempo. The third picture theme included a vase, water pitcher, grapes, an apple and a squash in front of various colored folds.

Mrs. Butler comes from an artistic family. She has a sister, Mrs. Mazie Sanders Martin, of California, who is an art instructor. Both Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Martin write poetry. Their father, Joseph Sanders, painted lovely sun sets without having taken lessons.

Because of conditions over which we have no control our kennels will have to move from the present situation where we have been so happy. Will the community of dog lovers help to find us another place as nice so "Ma Bland" can continue to keep our tails wagging. The dogs of Bide-A-Wee Dog Farm.—Adv. 26, 27.
