THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper.

Vol. 24—No. 229 TRYON, N. C. TUESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1951

Weather Monday: High 86, low 64, Rel. Hum. 65. . . . Elbert H. Arledge, printer, has installed a modern automatic press. A lot of people seeing the machine go into the building during the week-end thought The Bulletin was getting a new machine. We need one that will print twice as much and twice as fast in order to take care of the work each day. For the present we have to start printing pages of The Bulletin just as soon as we get two of them set up in type. That means we must have half the paper printed the day before it comes out in order to make our schedule. Those friends who bring in ads late in the morning hold up the paper. If you know of news that will develop tell us ahead of time if possible, don't wait several days after it has happened. To keep the paper newsworthy we must have information while it is news. Some people don't tell us news some times because they think we already know it, and we miss it. So please remember "we don't know nothing." Hope the double negative will remind you to give your friends a break. Take us into your confidence. Often we can work with you and get a better story that will be timely if we know in advance.

DUFORD WILLIAMS

Duford Williams, 49, prominent Tryon auto mechanic, died suddenly Monday night at 11:45 following a heart attack at his home.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 3 p. m., at the McFarland Funeral Home with the Rev. G. A. Davis, pastor of the Pentecostal Holiness Church officiating. Burial will be in Tryon Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Buster Culbreath, Romey Green, Guynell Smith, Eb Fisher, C. M. Eargle, and Russell Constance.

The deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Williams of Tryon. He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Magaline Glover; one son, Roy Williams, of Tryon; a daughter, Mrs. Eugene Mills of Mill Spring Route 1; one sister, Mrs. James Littlefield, of Landrum and one brother, Burley Williams, of Tryon.

ALLEN ROGERS

Allen Livingston Rogers, 61, of Spartanburg, brother of Carroll P. Rogers of Tryon, passed away on Monday at midnight. He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Allen Kimble, and two granddaughters; also three brothers, Julien, Carroll and Frank, and a sister, Miss Annie Rogers.

Mr. Rogers was a civic leader of Spartanburg, active in church work and musical organizations. He was a past president of the Spartanburg Kiwanis Club, and was a vocal soloist at international conventions. He was a frequent visitor in Tryon. He was a son of the late Rev. and Mrs. William A. Rogers.
