WEDNESDAY, AUG. 29, 1951

Weather Tuesday: High 84, low 69, Rel. Hum. 80 . . . A lot of praise is being heard for the way the Town Street Department is trying to keep the streets cleaner. Clean streets make us all feel better. More cooperation is needed from the public. Grown men throw cigars wrappers and cigarette packages on the sidewalk instead of putting them in the container or even their pocket. It wouldn't hurt to hold something like that until one moved closer to a container. One place neglected by the town forces is the curb above the depot park and in front of the post office section. Somebody sweeps the trash near Missildine's into the rough part near the iron steps and looks bad for days . . .

Rev. J. M. Barber, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Mt. Airy, christened his nephew, William Sherrill Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Minter Barber Sunday morning at the Tryon Methodist Church. In the meantime another brother, Rev. E. L. Barber of the Presbyterian Church at Montreal, Ga., christened his grandnephew, Robert Edward Barber III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barber at the Tryon Presbyterian Church.

Tar Heel producers of burley tobacco averaged 1,440 pounds per acre in 1950.

TAXES AND HOSPITALS

Manuel Holthouser spoke to the Kiwanis Club Tuesday at Oak Hall hotel and told of the many problems in running a hospital and of the expenses that a hospital has besides room and board. According to the speaker the average cost per patient last year at St. Luke's Hospital was a little over $14 a day.

Mr. Holthouser told of the various ways the hospital receives tax money that many people don't know about through the county and state, but that even with this aid, the hospital still has to appeal for private funds. Under the Hill-Burton Act, hospitals may be built or added to by the local community putting up 1-3 of the total, the state 1-3 and the Federal Government 1-3. Mr. Holthouser explained that this was an excellent opportunity for towns to improve their hospital facilities and as far as he could see there were no strings attached to the money and the authority for running the hospital still remained with the local trustees.

The speaker was of the opinion that the present administration is trying to socialize medicine and that it is a serious threat to the hospitals and to the medical profession.
