"Don't Go Broke; Go Broker", Tryon Rotarians Are Told

Arthur Britton, now convalescing at St. Luke's Hospital from a heart attack, was sympathetically excused by Rotary Program Chairman John G. Landrum Jr., from taking charge of Friday's meeting as scheduled on the club's 1951 program.

After Mr. Landrum expressed the sentiment of all present by wishing Mr. Britton an early and complete recovery, he introduced Albert B. Gilbert from the Asheville office of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Beane, as the guest speaker.

Mr. Gilbert made a short talk in which he emphasized the difference in today's investment pattern as compared with earlier days when a broker's advise was to "buy high-yield common stocks if you want to eat well, but buy low-yield bonds if you want to sleep well!" With Paul Culberston's assistance at the projector, he then showed a sound-film illustrating the manner in which a well organized brokerage firm can be of help to inexperienced investors in today's market.

Out-of-town Rotarians who attended were Albert R. Erskine, Memphis, Tenn., and Sapp Funderburk, Greenville, S. C.

President Isham Henderson announced the resignation of Wilbur Roadhouse as the club's secretary and treasurer, which was regretfully accepted because of Mr. Roadhouse's illness. At a post-meeting session of the club's directors, Craig Furr was appointed to succeed Mr. Roadhouse for the remainder of the 1951-1952 term.
