Vol. 24—No. 291 TRYON, N. C.

THURSDAY, NOV. 1ST, 1951

Weather Wednesday: High 70, low 47, rain .03, Rel. Hum. 81 . . . Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Guilbert on the beginning of their third year of operation of the Tryon Toy Shop, one of the centers of attraction to the community, where young and old find many unusual things . . .

Wayne Corpening of Waynesville, N. C., brother of Gaden Corpening of Tryon was given the distinguished service award by the National Association of County Agents on Tuesday at the national meeting in Memphis, Tenn. . . . The mountains have been beautiful the past few days. Many leaves have fallen as a result of the rain and wind. Colder weather is on the way, probably freezing in most of the mountain sections . . .

The Hallow'en Carnival was a success and no damage has been reported so far . . . Today is All Saints Day . . .

Funeral services for Mrs. S. R. Rushing will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Tryon Methodist Church . . .

Duplicate Bridge Tournament at Oak Hall at 7:45 . . . The "County Parson" a special movie today and Friday at Lake Lanier Drive-in Theatre . . . Landrum Municipal candidates speak tonight at the Landrum grammar school auditorium . . .

TODAY is the

Change At Re-Sale Exchange

Mr. and Mrs. Minto L. Henderson have taken over the management of the Tryon Re-Sale Post and will operate it daily instead of three days a week, according to an announcement by Tom Costa for Friday's Bulletin. The present policy of the shop will be continued by the new managers. Mr. and Mrs. Costa state that the experiment has been very successful to all concerned, the buyers, sellers and managers.

FORREST M. TESSENER

Forrest M. Tessener, 55, former resident of Columbus, died suddenly Wednesday morning at his home in Spindale of a heart attack.

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) at 2:30 p. m., at Sandy Plains Baptist Church in Cleveland County. He is survived by his wife the former Miss Ola Bridges of Spindale and one son, Hugh B. Tessener of Columbus. Mr. Tessener formerly worked with the State Highway Commission.

ANOTHER BEAUTY

The Town of Tryon has been given a beautiful camellia by Walter Allan of Summerville. It is "Cleopatra" with a beautiful pink bloom.

Mayor Stevens has written Mr. Allan that it has been planted where the greatest number of grateful Tryonites may see it—opposite the post office.—Flora B.

A son was born October 31, to Mr. and Mrs. Pinckney Williams at Greensboro, N. C. The new arrival is a grandson of Mrs. E. Pae Williams of Tryon.
