THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper.

Seth M. Vining, Editor

Vol. 24—No. 319 TRYON, N. C., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1951

Weather Monday: High 60, low 42, Rel. Hum. 47. . . . People in general are praising the activities of the police department and the street department. Some have remarked that Tryon's streets are cleanest they have been in years and that with the increased hazards of traffic the thoughtfulness of officers in assisting traffic, motorists and pedestrians, is appreciated. . . . Congratulations to Erwin Hester, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hester, a student at the University of North Carolina, who has been elected to the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity in recognition of his scholastic standing. . . . If you are stumped on any of your Christmas Gift problems, give a Polk County History book. A few are left at the Chamber of Commerce office, obtainable through John G. Landrum or The Bulletin office. And you can order them through the Blue Ridge Weavers. . . . Speaking of praise for conscientious service, mention has been made of the thorough job Chairman Harry Bridgeman is doing about the Christmas tree decorations. He checks all the trees every day to see which ones are being lighted and how many bulbs are missing. A movement is on foot to offer a REWARD for anyone catching

Tryon Sportsman Is Tops

In the current issue, of The Chronicle, national horseman's newspaper, published in Virginia, Austin A. Brown, president of the Tryon Riding & Hunt Club, was listed as the leading amateur rider in the nation and Tommy Oliver of Barrington, Ill., also a member of the Tryon Riding & Hunt Club, was listed as second. Mr. Brown was listed as the third best trainer, and his horse, Foxy Poise, which has won so many races throughout the East, South and Midwest, was listed as one of three leading brush horses in the United States.

A Merry Christmas To All

Among those who joined the list of contributors to the Trade Street Christmas Decorations last week and had not been reported were Morgan H. Morris listed in the Post Office Dept. 100 per cent roll, Missildine's Pharmacy, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huxley and Mr. and Mrs. Seth M. Vining.

Play At Country Club

The Tryon Country Club Women's Golf Association are having a bridge party today following dessert at the club house. Approximately 10 tables were listed at last report. Mrs. Carroll G. Bennett is president of the association and Mrs. George Vance is chairman of the entertainment. Plans are underway to establish regular bridge tournaments for the Country Club women and to offer entertainment for non-golfers and non-bridge players.

Corn production in North Carolina is estimated at 73 million bushels for 1951.
