

MONTE DEDMAN RESIGNS FROM LOCAL PAPERS

Monte Dedman has resigned, effective February 1st from the staff of the Tryon Daily Bulletin and The Polk County News after many years' service with the Polk County News and 17 years with The Bulletin.

In addition to being foreman of both newspapers, Mr. Dedman has served for a number of years as correspondent for Charlotte, Asheville and Spartanburg newspapers and as a special feature writer for various publications, and for a number of years conducted a column in The Polk County News entitled "As I See It", in which he reported his observations on various topics and his philosophy of life.

For the past three years he has been serving as a magistrate for Tryon Township and this business has grown so that he found it almost impossible to serve both institutions to his satisfaction. He felt that he had to give up one of them. The praise he has received from county officials and law enforcement officers for the efficiency with which he operated his office, prompted him to cast his lot in that direction. Last year he turned over to the county treasurer more funds in fines and forfeitures, which it is said, is the best record of any magistrate in the history of the county.

Since Mr. Dedman will remain in Tryon to carry on his magistrate duties, writing and other special activities, he has assured the management of both papers that he will be on hand to give any help in emergencies if needed.

Seth M. Vining, publisher of the papers, expressed his appreciation of Mr. Dedman's service over the years and of his spirit of cooperation in the future, because it will be needed.

County Agent Paul Culberson and Assistant Agent Earle Carter and Home Agent Mrs. Holland Brady Jr., have returned from Statesville where they attended the Southwestern District Agents Conference two days this week. Several specialists from State College were present to discuss problems expected in agriculture this year.
