Polk County Boy Scout Court of Honor will be held tonight at 7:45 at Tryon school. Scout supper will be served at 6:30. Public invited to Court of Honor . . . The 13th annual Institute of Religion opens tonight in Chapel Hill and each Monday hereafter through February 25th. . . . Thanks to Yale & Towne Manufacturing Co., officials; the YALE closer on the Tryon Post Office door is working perfectly. Mr. M. B. Zerwick, staff consultant of the Yale Lock Co., New York City, had about the complaint in The Bulletin and notified the Curb Reporter that his company would have a representative here within a few days to adjust the closer so it would work. He said his company wanted the Yale closer to give the people the best service possible and thanked The Bulletin for its interest in the matter. He said, "The Tryon Daily Bulletin may be the world's smallest daily newspaper, but it is certainly capable of performing great service for its community." Sure enough pretty soon Mr. George J. McGarry, of Greensboro, sales rep-
