Weather Thursday: High 88, low 50, Rel. Hum. 54 . . . Welcome Bridge Players to Tryon. We hope many of you will like Tryon enough to return many times either at the regular weekly bridge sessions on Thursday nights at Oak Hall or for a vacation at one of the inns in the community. You can always find bridge players in Tryon . . . Tryon is a place for rest and recreation for many people from all over the nation and all seasons of the year . . . There's a square dance tonight at the Parish House and one in Saluda Saturday night . . . The Jeff L. Nelson Masonic Lodge meets Monday night at 7:30 at the hall in Tryon . . . Tuesday night is the night of the donkey baseball game at Harmon Field probably between Tryon and Columbus Firemen . . . Wednesday is the night of the Tryon Senior Class play; Thursday is Duplicate Bridge night and Friday, May 16, is first Street Dancing event of the year sponsored by the P.T. A. . . Remember, Democrats and Republicans, if you are a new voter Saturday is next to your

Welcome, Bridge Players

By Betty Steiner

Tryon is welcoming today a host of fine bridge players who have come to win the laurels in the second Annual Bridge Championship. We think we are having a pretty large tournament, considering the fact that we are a rather young organization. We hope to welcome several life masters, as well as a number of fine players who have piled up a lot of master points for themselves, and may I add, as well as a lot of people who just like Tryon and are glad for an excuse to come here for a week-end—and last but not least, very humbly—who had a good time in spite of the heat at our tournament last July.

We are fortunate in having the cooperation of a number of inns and hotels in putting on our tournament. Pine Crest Inn, Mill Farm, Buckingham Inn, beside Oak Hall (where the tournament is being played) are prepared for overnight guests or luncheon or dinner guests over the week-end.

The Tryon Bridge Association will entertain immediately after the game Saturday night for all the participants in the tournament.

As Mr. Sobel says, "Let's go."

The Mens Club of the Holy Cross Church has arranged to have the Sunday sermons transcribed thru a tape recorder into mimeographed form for mailing to members of the congregation who are away for all or part of the summer. A small charge is made to cover expenses.
