Traffic Problem Discussed
At Luncheon In Tryon

A luncheon was held at Oak Hall Friday noon which was attended by members of the Southern Railway Co., State Highway and Public Utilities Commission representatives, the mayor, members of the Town Council and a group of private citizens.

The object of the meeting was to hear the proposals of the Operating Department of the Railroad and the Highway Department for solving of Tryon's vital traffic problems. The State is involved because much of the local traffic either flows from or into Highway 176, which is State maintained and controlled.

The meeting voted to request the Town Government to take such steps as are necessary to cooperate with the Highway Department and ascertain their recommendations for traffic routing, etc. E. E. Kemper, assistant engineer of Highway Department agreed to send his traffic engineer to Tryon in the near future to consult with the town officials and advise them as far as he felt that he should.

Edward N. McMahon, chairman, of the state Public Utilities Commission presided; E. R. Oliver Jr., the operating department of the Southern Railway and Mayor Clement D. Stevens the town. Isham Henderson, Craig Furr and Orville White from Rotary, Howard Frankenfield Jr., from the Chamber of Commerce and Clyde Tharpe from the Lions Club, and many others were present.
