Col. Foster Kiwanis Speaker

Col. Hart Foster spoke to the Kiwanis Club Tuesday at Oak Hall on the importance of our country's ideals. Col. Foster recommended everyone reading the following: Declaration of Independence, The Constitution, Washington's Farewell Address, and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

The speaker told of the wisdom of the founders of this nation. He stated that studying the past often enables us to fortell the future. Col. Foster read several excerpts from Washington's Farewell address to show how it applies today as well as during Washington's time.

Col. Foster said that the founders of the country had learned from the past and provided a system of checks and balances between the branches of the government, thus making it hard for one man to gain control. He also praised the separation of the church and state and felt that it was necessary to keep them separate.

This nation must be prepared at all times according to the speaker, and he felt that it was much better to have our men prepared for a national emergency than unprepared.

Horace Lindsey of Durham and Max Flemmings of Greenville, S. C., were guests of the club. Harold Griffith was in charge of the program.
