

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper.

Seth M. Vining, Editor

Vol. 25—No. 99 TRYON, N. C.

TUESDAY, JUNE 17TH, 1952

Weather Monday: High 94, low 68, Rel. Hum. 68. It's hot, but thank goodness for that 68 at night. Bird lovers having picnic supper and field trip today at the Thomas Nash farm near Landrum. Those attending will leave Melrose Avenue at 4:15 . . . Kiwanis today at 1 p. m., and Merchants meet at 2 p. m., at Oak Hall . . . Funeral of Mrs. Charlie Foster at 2 p. m. . . . No. St. Luke's Clinic today on account of Mrs. Pearl, the nurse being on vacation . . . Big doings at Roan Mountain this Saturday. People flocking to the mountains to see the rhododendron at Craggy, New Found Gap and elsewhere . . . Historic Woodfields Inn will be the scene of the annual reception for the Vagabond Players of Flat Rock Playhouse on Thursday next at 5 p. m., when Joe and Gladys Clemons, who own and operate the famous hostelry in the Flat Rock area, will be host to the group . . . George W. Fine, safety inspector with the North Carolina Department of Labor, headquarters in Asheville, was in Tryon and Polk County today making an official visit to the industries in the county . . . Bobby Lawrence is visiting his cousins, Joel and Dick Shirley in Columbia, S. C., this week.

Fire Destroys House Here

Fire of unknown origin, completely destroyed the house occupied by Brooks Campbell and family on Eskdale farm around noon Sunday.

The house was owned by the Jack Kimberly farm, but the Campbell family lost all their household effects, clothing and the children's toys. Lee Cowan is acting as a committee to help get good neighbors everywhere to assist in replacing the personal losses.

SCHMID—JONES

An international romance developed in Tryon within the past few weeks which resulted in the marriage of Mrs. Katharine Allein Brooks Jones, widow of Thomas Hoyt Jones of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mr. Albert William Schmid of Paris, France.

The wedding took place on Saturday morning, June 7th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Sessions in Spartanburg where the ceremony was performed by Judge William Davenport in the presence of a number of close relatives and friends who came by plane from various parts of the country for the event.

Mrs. Russell Burwell of Cleveland was matron of honor. Mr. Burwell, who is head of the Brush Development Co., was also present as well as Mrs. Edgar Reed of Pittsburgh and her daughter, Mrs. William Ludwig, and Mrs. Brown Berkley of Washington, D. C.; H. Chapman Rose of Cleveland, Clifton Murphy of Tryon, and the bride's two sons, Thomas Hoyt Jones Jr., investment broker, and Brooks Jones and bride of Cleve-

Continued on Back Page---