THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper.

Seth M. Vining, Editor

(Vol. 25—No. 124) TRYON, N. C. TUESDAY, JULY 22ND, 1952

Weather Monday: High 98, low 77, Rel. Hum. 57 . . . The death of Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, State School Supt., was a shock to educational leaders all over the state. His interest in the educational progress of the state and his capacity for getting things done and ironing out differences between school leaders throughout the state won the admiration of all; and he ~~was~~ successfully elected after his appointment by the governor, to serve 18 years. He was formerly superintendent of Rutherford County schools where he made such a good record he was called to the state post. His state ~~work~~ received national recognition he was chosen from time to time to represent the nation in an advisory capacity . . . The DEMONcratic convention seems to be underway in Chicago. Now the Republicans can laugh. Many local people stayed at their radios and television sets long after midnight as the fight over double talk went on. The same breaths that talked about rights of the individual were trying to bind others to their way of thinking, or else! . . . Mrs. Clyde Lancaster at Columbus, Ga., reports 30 near rainless days and temperatures that go sometimes to 104 . . . Earthquake in Tehachapi, Calif., kills 11 and wrecks many homes.
