Weather. The official is out of town but he reported before he left that Tryon had about an inch and a half of rain to relieve the drought stricken pastures and gardens . . . . In the Biltmore Forest Country Club Invitational Tournament last week, Mrs. Ernst Mahler Jr., won the second flight championship; and Mrs. Charles E. Willard won the fourth flight consolation. The first flight championship was won by Miss Kathy McKinnon of Travelers Rest and Florida, defeating Miss Jane Thomas to break the course record with a 71. Red Miller sports editor of the Asheville Citizen wrote that no better golf had ever been played at the Biltmore Forest Country Club . . . Top Republicans say a Republican victory in November will assure a federal fair employment practices commission law with teeth in it. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., Negro Democratic Congressman from New York said Sunday that both parties sold the Negro down the river . . . In Durham, N. C. Dr. C. C. Spaulding, noted Negro insurance executive, died worth a million dollars. He started from nothing, the son of a former slave. The company he was the boss of had over $30,000,000 in assets. He had been honored by several col-

DOG NEWS

Most Tryon people are very much interested in dogs. Last week when an ad appeared in The Bulletin about a dog of Collie ancestry being lost, half a dozen people reported having seen it. The owner of the dog was brought twice to the police station to identify a dog found but neither time was it the right dog. The hunt was continued for Tony the dog of Collie ancestry.

Jefferson, the golden coin Beagle of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll G. Bennett, will celebrate his fourth birthday on September 10th. Jefferson can play baseball in the outfield, sing and dance, and roll over dead when asked if he had rather be a Democrat or dead. He also can sit up and hold a pipe in his mouth. He won first prize for Beagles in the Spartanburg Dog Show last spring, but did not enter the Tryon Show.

Col. and Mrs. William A. Schil-
