

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper.

Seth M. Vining, Editor

Vol. 25—No. 135 TRYON, N. C. WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 17, 1952

CURB REPORTER

Weather Tuesday: high 86, low 61, rain .09, Rel. Hum. 55. . .

WELCOME to the members of the Western North Carolina Volunteer Firemen's Assn. who are meeting this evening at Harmon Field. We honor you for your patriotic services to your communities. May your noble example be an inspiration to others on this Sept. 17th, National Constitution Day. Such spirit as yours gave us the constitution. We need the same spirit to preserve it. . . Congratulations to Eskdale Farms on its grand showing at the Western N. C. Fair in Hendersonville Tuesday. Eskdale won Grand Champion Ribbon with senior yearling heifer Eskdale Noah's Frances; (best Guernsey and best of show). and Grand Champion for junior bulls with Eskdale Baron's Cavalero; also first place in senior yearling bulls with Eskdale Noah's Major; first place also won for three year olds with Eskdale Noah's Buttercup. Buttercup also won place for best uddered cow. Flora Campbell of Eskdale Farm who helped Wayne Bryson show the cattle won first place for showmanship. . . The finals in the women's golf championship was played Tuesday at the Tryon Country Club when Mrs. Peter Mahler won over Mrs. Henry Barto! Jr. Mrs. Mahler having won the cup three times retains permanent possession of the trophy. Tuesday's match was for 11 holes and Mrs. Mahler was one over par for the round.

Some 223,000 farm families received their first electric service from REA-financed lines during fiscal 1952.

Summer Reading Report

On August 26, the last meeting of the Summer Reading Club was held at the Lanier Library.

The total membership for the summer was 27. Fifteen of these kept up an active interest throughout the season. This was very gratifying to those who sponsored the project.

The following young people made the highest records in points, for books read and reported on: Isa Brannon 169; Jane Bissell 140; Charles Willard 125; Sandra Murdock 122; Joe Dalton 94; Hubbard Arledge 72.

The total number of books read and reported on was 335 for the entire group. —Contributed.

The Tryon Bird Club got off to an enthusiastic start of the year at its meeting on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ince gave us an entertaining paper, with many illuminating facts about our friendly little nuthatch. We should appreciate him more than ever, now that we know his diet includes spiders, borers, and other enemies of our gardens and woods.

All those interested in bird study are invited to join with us in the stimulating program of the year, as outlined by Mrs. Norton. —Contributed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Roadhouse have as guests the two sisters of Mr. Roadhouse, Mrs. G. E. Cleophas and Mrs. A. W. Fagerstrom of Evanston, Ill.; also Mrs. Herbert Kimbrough, until recently Associate Professor of Voice at Washington State College, Pullman, Wash., now of Seattle. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Roadhouse of Alton, ILL. will arrive this weekend.