

ENTLED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper.

Seth M. Vining, Editor

Vol. 25—No. 262 TRYON, N. C. THURSDAY, OCT. 23RD, 1952

Weather Wednesday: high 70, low 26, Rel. Hum. 26. . . The political pot is boiling furiously as candidates strike home their points. The television sets have brought candidates and their policies into the homes of millions and they will have a better opportunity to make a decision. With two fine candidates for president a lot of folks are confused and say they will wait until election day to decide. Elsewhere in the Bulletin is a paid advertisement titled "Our Hope Lies In Change", it is paid for by the Eisenhower Independent group and not by the Republicans as stated at the bottom of the ad. . . President George Cooksey of the Chamber of Commerce states that Supt. E. R. Oliver Jr. of the Southern Railroad has been conferring with Tryon men and women garden clubs to plan for the beautification of the depot grounds. . . The State Banking Commission has given the Tryon Bank & Trust Co. permission to open a branch bank in Columbus. . . Mr. and Mrs. Gaden Corpening are leaving Friday for a business trip to Florida. . . "Carmen" the first grand opera to appear in Spartanburg is on tonight at the Memorial auditorium. Some tickets are still available.

Extra Bulletins 5c per copy.

Tryon Kiwanis Club

Celebrates 25th Anniversary

The Kiwanis Club of Tryon celebrated its 25th anniversary Tuesday with a ladies' night program at Oak Hall hotel.

The highlight of the evening was an address by Governor J. O. Talley Jr., of Fayetteville, governor of the Carolinas Kiwanis District, who spoke on the importance of three freedom dates: the opening of school, Labor Day (freedom to work) and United Nations Day.

Charles J. Lynch and Seth M. Vining, charter members, were presented 25 year service pins and the Legion of Honor certificate by Lieut-Governor M. E. Grambrell of Hendersonville. Mr. Lynch was one of the founders of the Tryon club and for many years was chairman of its famous wheel chair committee which has rendered personal service to hundreds of invalids in this section.

Carroll P. Rogers, the club's first president and a former lieutenant-governor, was toastmaster and introduced Governors Tally and Gambrell.

Seth M. Vining, president of the club welcomed the other guests and introduced out of town Kiwanians from Hendersonville, Brevard, Asheville, Rutherford, Shelby and Spartanburg, who took part in presenting the charter to the Tryon club 25 years ago at Mimosa Inn. Among the original members present that night who were introduced were R. E. Price of Rutherfordton; Ray Wanner, Asheville; J. T. Fain, Hendersonville; T. W. Crews of Spartanburg, who brought greetings from

Continued On Back Page . . .