

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper.

Seth M. Vining, Editor

Vol. 25—No. 269 TRYON, N. C. TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1952

Weather Monday: High 83, low 41, Rel. Hum. 42 . . . BE SURE TO VOTE TODAY. Both parties urge you to vote. The polls will be open until 6:30 p. m. In Tryon the automobile agencies are offering free rides to those without transportation as a community service. Win or lose we'll go back to work Wednesday feeling that we have discharged our responsibility and will cooperate with the winner to help make America greater in every way. Both of our candidates were drafted by their parties as neither sought the office. It is an ideal set up. The office is seeking the man. No voter could wait until the last minute. had to stand in line at 7:30 this morning. If you haven't voted, rush to the school gym in Tryon or to your respective voting place now The Congregational Fellowship Group will meet on WEDNESDAY night at 7 and hear Miss Molly Washurn speak of her visit in Germany Four were killed in a private airplane crash near Ridgecrest Monday afternoon. They were S. R. Cross, his 13-year-old daughter, Elizabeth Cross, R. E. Lambeth and Billy Wilkerson, all of Marion, N. C. Mr. Cross, president of Cross Cotton Mills, and his daughter, have often ridden in the Tryon Horse Show, and Elizabeth is a national
-----Continued on Back Page-----

ONE OF THE BEST!

The annual "closing party for the women golf and bridge players of The Tryon Country Club, which was held last Tuesday was one of the nicest events held this year for it provided the best in food, decoration, prizes, companionship and fun!

The very clever decorations arranged by Polly Bennett and Libby Mahler sounded the keynote of fun for the day's entertainment and made the annual awarding of golf and bridge prizes a gala event for the thirty-seven women who attended.

Mrs. Carroll Bennett, the retiring President of the Women's Golf Association presided and planned the entire party, including a style show entitled "A Week-end on the Riviera" with clever commentary; extra prizes for special "merits" and the presentation of a lovely pin to Mrs. Ted Fox for her wonderful co-operation and help to the women throughout the year.

The golf awards were: to Mrs. Peter Mahler for the 1952 women's Club Championship, the silver trophy cup which Libby may now keep for a permanent possession as this was the third time Libby has won the Club Championship since the cup was presented to the women golfers. Mrs. Henry Bartol received the prize for Runner-up, thus making them the winners of the A class championship. Mrs. Charles Willard won class B Championship and Mrs. Lawrence Bradley won Runner-up for class B. Mrs. Seth Vining won the Consolation Flight with Mrs. Charles Stratford-winning the Runner-up. The yearly prizes presented were: for Lowest Ringer Score, class A,

Continued On Back Page