Vol. 25—No. 300 TRYON, N. C. WEDNESDAY, DEC. 17, 1952

Weather Tuesday: High 57, low 27, Rel. Hum. 46 Only one director of the Chamber of Commerce has contributed to the Trade Street Christmas Decorations and only three or four merchants, because there has been no direct solicitation. It is a people's project, free of the usual commercialism. However, it is always a joy to a committee chairman when members volunteer their support and interest in any project. It is an added joy when the people in general approve of what's being done, and approve with financial support and encouragement. From day to day contributions have come in voluntarily from friends who want to wish everyone, friend and stranger, A Merry Christmas, and all the good things of the season as expressed through the lighted Christmas trees. Little Miss Mary Rion of Athens, Ga., who is here for the holidays joins the list of contributors: so does Mrs. Etta Cashwell, Mrs. Julian Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lindley, Mrs. Cleo Geer, Mrs. Sibyl Brendall. And some friends have offered to give more if needed. However the committee feels that it is much better for a large number of people to give smaller amounts than for a few people to give larger amounts. The good wishes of all the

DRAFT BOARD CLOSES

The office of the Polk County Selective Service Board will close Friday, Dec. 19th, and remain closed until Jan. 5th. Those wishing to take up matters with the Board have until Friday to do it.

Management At Kiwanis

Manuel C. Holthouser spoke to the Kiwanis Club Tuesday at Oak Hall on "How Do You Manage". Mr. Holthouser told of some of the personnel problems facing hospital administrators and business men in general.

The speaker said that the hospital is not a profit making organization and that if you are sick you are not refused because your credit isn't any good. Mr. Holthouser said, "The main purpose of any hospital is rendering the best service possible, regardless of the cost."

Guests of the club were Carter Haas, Charlotte; Sam Goodman, A. W. Koon and Hunter Stalworth, Spartanburg; Jack Craig, Columbus; S. A. Bingham, Tryon.

TRYON WINS TWO

Tryon High School boys and girls basketball teams defeated Saluda High Tuesday night: the girls 54 to 36, and the boys 59 to 50. Glenna Hamrick and Hugh Hines led the Tryon scorers with 25 and 24 points, respectively. Adrian Pace led Saluda boys with 21 and Forward Stephenson led the Saluda girls with 34 points.

Columbus Capitol Girls will play Spartanburg Junior College in basketball Thursday night at 7:30 at Columbus gym. The boys' team goes to Holly Springs.
