The spirit of Christmas is in the hearts of millions of people all over the world and though it may be expressed in many different ways the message is the same—A Merry Christmas to All. That is the sincere wish of the advertisers in this annual Christmas edition of The Bulletin. To be merry one must be in good health and happy and in love with everyone. So please take the spirit of these advertisements as a personal message to you from the people who do business with you throughout the year. It is the only way many of them have to reach all their friends in this area.

The spirit of Christmas also includes the stranger within our gates as reflected in the lighted Christmas trees on Trade Street and from the many homes with lighted windows and doorways. Should you be a stranger or a shutin please let this edition bring to you some of that wonderful spirit of love. It is for you.

A Merry Christmas To Everyone!
