

[Est. 1-31-28]

Published Daily Except
Saturday and Sunday

[5c Per Copy]

ENTRERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper.

Seth M. Vining, Editor

Vol. 25—No. 311 TRYON, N. C. THURSDAY, JANUARY 1, 1953

Weather Wednesday: High 45, low 37, rain 1.81 inches, Rel. Hum. 93. Rainfall for December 4.63 inches. The weather starts off the New Year in grand style with a bright beautiful day, and many leaders all over the world are working for a peaceful world of progress and happiness, and on millions of tongues are the words, "Happy New Year." When enough of us mean it and will it, it will come to pass. This is a time of year when many people take stock of themselves and their business and projects in order to make decisions as to what should be changed, added or eliminated.

The popularity of the new revised edition of the Bible indicates a hunger for more spiritual knowledge. A spiritual understanding enables us to weather many storms in a troubled world. It also helps us appreciate the great progress being made in material and mental development. The great triangle "Mind, Body and Spirit" need constant feeding to keep us well balanced. . . . The Orange Bowl football game will be on television at 1:45 (Alabama vs. Syracuse) and the Rose Bowl game at 4:45 (Wisconsin vs. Southern California). Those who can get Atlanta stations will be able to see the Sugar Bowl game between

Continued on Back Page

E. J. MASH PASSES

Edmond J. Mash, 47, of the Green River Cove, Saluda, died at 10:30 a. m., Dec. 30th, at Veterans Hospital, Swannanoa.

Mr. Mash entered the hospital on December 3rd, and was undergoing treatment for a heart and thyroid condition. An unexpected heart attack resulted in death.

Born in Shellyville, Bedford County, Tenn., on December 28, 1905, Mr. Mash received his education in the public schools where he excelled in athletics. He was a member of the Christian Church.

Mr. Mash entered the armed forces in February 1942, where he served in the Signal Corps until September 1945. He moved to the Cove in 1947 and had made his home there since.

He was married in 1942 to the former Miss Daisy Westbrook of Green Creek community, who survives him.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a step-son, Lofton Lemmonds of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.; father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mash; a sister, Mrs. Jewell Demobrevn; a brother, Paul W. Mash, all of Shellyville.

The remains left Morris-Gearing Funeral Home, Asheville at 5:30 Wednesday. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at Goman Funeral Home in Shelleyville.

HOSPITAL NEWS

New patients at St. Luke's Hospital include Mrs. Elizabeth Thomyson, of Lynn; Dr. Richard G. Christopher of Landrum and Mrs. D. C. Cunningham of Tryon.

Patients discharged include Mrs. Roger Shaffer.