ENTIRED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper.

Seth M. Vining, Editor

Vol. 25—No. 316 TRYON, N. C. THURSDAY, JANUARY 8, 1953

Weather Wednesday: High 65, low 45, rain .02, Rel. Hum. 82 . . . Front page of today's Charlotte Observer had a picture of George W. Womack along with three other Carolinians who received Medals of Honor from Secretary of the Army Frank Pace. The medals were awarded to parents of sons who were killed in action in Korea . . . OVER A MILLION STAMPS were sold at the Tryon Post Office last year. In the report of the year's business published in Wednesday's Bulletin the figures were given for the entire year by quarters, but the 136,000 stamps sold were for the month of December only. The year's figures were not available at the time, but taking December as an example and being conservative by reducing 36,000 from each month would give us a total of 1,200,000 stamps sold during 1952 . . . President Truman warns Russia that atomic war would be terrible . . . A special ambassador of the U. S. who has returned from the Near East stated Wednesday night that we are losing the cold war there because we have sent third and fourth class representatives from the diplomatic service; we have neglected to help those people organize themselves to be self supporting. They look on us as monsters
