ANOTHER TRYON QUEEN

Phoebe Mackay of Bronxville, N. Y., and Tryon was crowned Queen-of-the-Mardi-Gras Costume Ball at Parsons School of Design in New York City on Friday, Feb. 13th. She and her escort, Bob Widder of Gettysburg, Pa., were chosen by the new president of the school, Pierre Bedar, formerly president of the French Institute, and other judges from the faculty. All costumes were judged for originality and taste.

Miss Mackay and Mr. Widder went as ghosts-from-the-Court-of-Versailles, in costumes made of brilliant ribbons and wigs of crepe paper.

Both are seniors at the school and will graduate this May from
