TRYON, N. C.

TUESDAY, MARCH 3, 1953

Weather Monday: High 54, low 36, rain .68, Rel. Hum. 75 . . Mayor C. D. Stevens reports that a subcommittee of the Joint Finance Committee of the North Carolina State Assembly, has been appointed to study the Intangible Tax Schedules with an eye to repealing or reducing that tax on shares of stock. A public hearing on the question is scheduled for Thursday, March 5th, at 2:30 p. m., in Raleigh. Anyone supporting or objecting to this change should notify Chairman Roy Taylor from the House or Chairman Nelson Woodson from the Senate by telegraph or special delivery letter today if they are deeply interested. The North Carolina League of Municipalities officials are opposed to any change because the cities and counties get 80 per cent of the tax refunded to them. Last year the total amounted to nearly $5 million. The cities don't want to lose this money. Tryon's share last year was $1,800. However, many business and civic leaders claim that Tryon and the state as a whole loses much more on account of the tax, because many people who move into the state and get their income from sources outside of the state, want to become legal citizens, but will not do so on account of the tax. Consequently
