

BAD MOTOR MANNERS

Failure to grant the right-of-way caused the greatest number of auto accidents last March, Highway Safety Chief H. D. Jones of Raleigh said today.

Accidents in March, 1952, caused 1,113 injuries and 74 deaths, he said, and most of them were the result of bad Motor Manners.

The Motor Vehicles Department's Highway Safety Division and the National Safety Council are featuring Motor Manners as the safety theme for March.

He said there were 3,357 reported motor vehicle accidents in March of last year and appealed to Tar Heel motorists to reduce this by at least 18% this month.

Loss from wrecks came to $7,030,000 in March a year ago. Jones said, "Have you ever stopped to figure out how many permanent improvements we could have in our state, if only the tax payers and their representatives would decide to stop this useless waste? There's just one step between you and tragedy."

"None of our good citizens would permit anyone to go berserk and shoot down citizens without doing something about it, but still they haven't become aroused or concerned enough to prevent the slaughter that takes place on our thoroughfares most every day."

"Death took only five holidays last March, make safe driving—and walking—a habit," Jones concluded.
