

MEET YOUR FRIENDS AT "THE PRESCRIPTION STORE"
OWEN'S PHARMACY. Phone 202. WALGREEN AGENCY

TO PRESERVE POETRY

Prof. Raymond Jenkins, dean of the faculty of Catawba College, Salisbury, N. C., has been unanimously elected as Curator of the Poetry Council of North Carolina. He will have charge of collecting, filing, and preserving any kind of material related to poetry, which he feels will be valuable, and will contribute to the cultural growth and inspiration of our people.

President Keppel of Catawba College has consented to the use of their library and vault to store and preserve books, holographic manuscripts, and any other valuable records and memorabilia of poets of North Carolina, which Dean Jenkins may select for preservation.

On behalf of Dean Jenkins, who brings great knowledge and understanding to this task the Poetry Council of North Carolina requests the hearty cooperation of all poets and poetry lovers in finding and forwarding to Dean Jenkins material and information which may be thought valuable. This arrangement makes possible for the first time in this State the development of a Museum of Poetry. We hope all poets will help as they can with this pioneering effort.—Cont.

The BULLETIN, $3 per year in county; $4 per year elsewhere.

HESTER REAL ESTATE & INSURANCE AGENCY

J. B. Hester, Insurance Since
1905; W. M. Hester, Real
Estate Since 1923
Phone No. 37, Tryon

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Smith and daughter, Barrie, of Greenville, S. C., were week-end guests of Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. M. L. Nash, in Tryon.

WALTER A. KNOOP Real Estate Sales

Res. Phone 311-M

DONCASTER

Tailored Dresses & Blouses

Now on display in our showroom, being shown in an elaborate range of fine cottons, linens, Salyna, pure silk and rayon prints and many outstanding novelty weaves.

Open 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Doncaster Collar & Shirt
Company

Rutherfordton, North Carolina

PATRONIZE YOUR HOME TOWN
MERCHANT!

He's Your Neighbor