

Men's Garden Club Meets Wednesday

On Wednesday, March 25, at 7:30 p. m., the Men's Garden Club of Tryon will meet at Oak Hall for an illustrated wild flower program to be given by R. M. Schiele, Scout Executive of the Piedmont Council of the Boy Scouts of America. Mr. Schiele will show colored slides of the wild flowers in this area and in particular those at Pearson Falls. This will be Ladies Night and members are being urged to take their wives, members of their families and guests. This is not a scheduled dinner meeting, but Oak Hall will serve dinner prior to the meeting. Reservations for dinner should be made in advance.

The sun occasionally gives vent to the violent luminous radiation accompanying solar flares, but a radio antenna receiving extremely short radio waves from the sun occasionally gets strong outbursts of solar radio static. The nature of the physical mechanism producing the outbursts is unknown, yet the outbursts are important as they can unset radar reception.—Dr. W. O. Roberts.
