WAYMON GETS OVATION

Eunice Waymon, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Waymon of Tryon and a student of Vladimir Sokoloff of the Curtiss Institute of Music in Philadelphia, received an ovation from her friends and music lovers at the Tryon school auditorium Tuesday night, as she was called back for encores.

Miss Waymon was presented in a piano recital under the joint sponsorship of the Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary clubs together with the Eunice Waymon Fund Committee which is interested in furthering her musical education.

Despite many other activities in the community the center part of the auditorium was full to overflowing. Due to the position of the piano in the center of the stage the view of the keyboard of the piano and the hands of the pianist were blocked. At intermission the piano was moved slightly and many people on the right of the auditorium, moved over to the left and those in back moved forward. The audience was filled with distinguished guests, composers, musicians of various types including concert pianists. But even the little children were captivated under the spell of her music. She played with great feeling as well as technical skill the works of Bach, Beethoven, Litz, Brahms and folk melodies of her own improvisation.

Following the recital many friends went back stage to congratulate her and new friends were made for the Eunice Waymon Fund.
