TRYON, N. C. WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3RD, 1953

Weather Tuesday: High 85, low 55, Rel. Hum. 36 . . . Nice weather for June . . . Today's Charlotte Observer has three pages of its vacation section about Polk County. They contain mostly ads. . . Two New York book publishers, Fred P. Murphy and Elsworth Howell, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Ferguson at Hearthstone Ridge. Mr. Murphy, a graduate of Cornell and a Rotarian, is chairman of the board of the American Corporation and of the Grolier Society, publishers of Book of Knowledge and Encyclopedia Americana. Mr. Howell is vice president of the company and will return to New York Thursday . . . In addition to the coronation another big event of the week was the climbing of Mt. Everest, highest mountain in the world, by a British group. The mountain is over 29,000 feet high, located in the Himalayas in India . . . The following editorial from The Asheville Citizen gives something of the significance of the coronation which has claimed the attention of so much of the world:

Coroner's Jury Hearing Changed To Thursday At 2

The coroner's inquest into the death of Edward Ball, Tryon Theatre manager, has been changed to Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m., in the County Court House in Columbus. The hearing had tentatively been set for Friday at 2:30 p. m. Polk County Coroner Otis Dalton stated to a Bulletin reporter on Wednesday morning that the hearing had been changed "due to the fact that Solicitor C. O. Ridings was unable to attend the hearing on Friday."

Coroner Dalton also stated that the empaneled jury would either release J. L. Rhodes, prominent Tryon political leader now being held in Columbus jail, on a murder warrant in connection with the case or would recommend that he be held for the August term of the grand jury.

In a long distance telephone conversation with Solicitor Clarence Riding Wednesday at 10 a. m., he is quoted as saying that "there will be no change in the date of hearing," which is now definitely set for Thursday at 2 p. m.
